Snipers, drones featured on Pensacola's 'Forward March'

Marketta Davis - Pensacola News Journal
Reprinted with permission

Special ops snipers, drones and female fighter pilots are what you'll see on Pensacola's "Forward March," a military talk show for service members and civilians.

"We formed this show as a response and a way to showcase the military and all the wonderful things that are going on in the service throughout our community," said Billie Nicholson, production supervisor at Responsible Media Arts.

"There's no show like this and we've been looking for a way to make it happen."

Hosted by retired Army Maj. Gen. Al Gilley and retired Air Force Lt. Col. David Landfair, "Forward March"

highlights the U.S. military through the weekly appearance of guests who discuss current military affairs. The show airs at 7 p.m. Wednesdays on UTV Channel 44 and at 10 a.m. Thursdays on WCOA 1370 AM radio.

Meant to close the gap between military and civilian sectors by providing an opportunity for community members to learn more about their local servicemen and women, Nicholson said topics always are fun and interesting.

In addition to guest appearances, the show also features various topic segments. The opinion segment features retired Navy Lt. Cmdr. Cass Phillips, 95, a Pearl Harbor survivor. The Deployment Shout Out, one of the most popular segments, allows the family and friends of deployed servicemen and women to give a shout out to them on the air.

On This Day in History, presented by Navy veteran Don Parker of WCOA 1370 Morning News Talk, is a learning segment saluting the contributions of past service members.

Parker, who served on a guided missile destroyer in 1967 and 1968, said he was more than interested and eager to join the show.

"It's very appealing," Parker said. "When I'm doing the On This Day in History segment, I learn something along with the audience every show. It's extremely fascinating to read. And we cover a wide range of topics from military

Healthcare Corner: Notes from Your Hurlburt Field

New DEA Drug Take-back Program

Your Hurlburt Field Pharmacy is pleased to announce that a new program has been established for disposal of unused medications. A new drug take-back box has recently been installed inside your Hurlburt Field Clinic. The receptacle is located in the Pharmacy lobby, and can be utilized to drop off all expired and unused medications. No questions asked, no patient identification needed to utilize the disposal box. This free service is provided with the intent of assisting patients in discarding any unwanted medications.

This receptacle is the only one of its kind within a 150 mile radius. The next closest drug take-back box is located at Keesler AFB, MS. A Hurlburt drug take-back event last year accrued an astonishing 175 pounds of medications, demonstrating a critical need for this service in the community. All collected medications will be safely disposed of, courtesy of the Hurlburt Field Pharmacy. All 1 SOMDG beneficiaries, as well as the 23,000 retirees in the area, can access the drug take-back box during normal Pharmacy business hours. If you have any questions regarding this matter, please contact your 1 SOMDG Pharmacy at 881-2133.

Are you covered for long term care?

Long term care is often used as an umbrella phrase to refer to all kinds of assistance to the aging, the elderly, or the disabled, whether that care is given in a patient's home or in a nursing home. This is an understandable, and common, mistake.

Long term care includes a wide range of support services for patients with a degenerative condition, prolonged illness or cognitive disorder. Also known as "custodial care," long term care primarily involves assistance with daily living (walking, personal hygiene, dressing, etc.) or supervision of someone who is cognitively impaired.

Despite popular belief, TRICARE DOES NOT cover long term care. TRICARE does cover other services you may need such as:

- Skilled nursing care
- Durable medical equipment
- Home health care
- Hospice care

What are my options for long term care?

You may qualify to purchase long term care insurance through commercial insurance programs or through the Federal Long Term Care Insurance Program (FLTCIP). Eligible beneficiaries include active duty and National Guard members activated for more than 30 days, retired uniformed service members, and members of the Selected Reserve.

Eligibility and enrollment requirements are complex. Not everyone who applies for this insurance will be approved for it. For complete details, please visit the <http://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance/long-term-care>.

The FLTCIP provides long term care insurance to help pay for costs of care when enrollees need help with activities they perform every day, or have a severe cognitive impairment, such as Alzheimer's disease.

Most Federal and U.S. Postal Service employees and annuitants, active and retired members of the uniformed services, and their qualified relatives are eligible to apply for insurance coverage under the FLTCIP. Certain medical conditions, or combinations of conditions, will prevent some people from being approved for coverage. You must apply to find out if you enroll.

Influenza: The Quick Facts

The flu is a contagious respiratory illness caused by influenza viruses that infect the nose, throat, and lungs. It can cause mild to severe illness, and at times can lead to death. The best way to prevent the flu is by getting a flu vaccine each year.

Signs and Symptoms include fever, cough, sore throat, runny or stuffy nose, muscle or body aches, headaches and fatigue.

Certain people are at greater risk for serious complications if they get the flu. This includes elderly people, young children, pregnant women and people with certain health conditions (such as asthma, diabetes, or heart disease).

For our senior population, the seasonal flu can be very serious, even deadly. Ninety percent of flu-related deaths and more than half of flu-related hospitalizations occur in people age 65 and older. Because of this, the aforementioned population is considered "High Risk."

In order to ensure you have the best protection available against this rapid changing virus, the 1 SOMDG provides influenza immunization to all our beneficiaries. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you start having flu-like symptoms.

Follow these basic steps during this upcoming flu season to mitigate any chance of catching "the flu"

- Get your flu shot
- Practice good hygiene.
- Monitor for any signs and symptoms of infection

If you have any questions please contact your local Public Health office 881-1528

EXCHANGE
ARMY & AIR FORCE EXCHANGE SERVICE

Still Serving

The Hurlburt Exchange proudly serves approximately 35,490 retirees and their family members. To salute their service and to show appreciation, the Exchange will be hosting its annual "Still Serving" weekend with special sales and benefits at the Hurlburt Field BX from September 24th through the 25th. In addition to the Still Serving Event the Retiree Activities Office will hold special activities.

Commissary Corner

Hurlburt Field Commissary features a display highlighting necessary items for hurricane preparation.

Two annual case lot sales offer economical ways to stock a pantry in hurricane season. The next case lot sale is scheduled for the weekend of Sept 24-25. Shoppers have a great opportunity to "pantry load" at unbeatable prices during these sales. From canned goods. To laundry detergent to paper goods, case lot prices can save shoppers as much as 50-60% of regularly priced items.

Over 19,000 items are available at Hurlburt Commissary. Specialty items from around the world are featured in the deli and international aisle. Produce, meat, deli, bakery, "Grab n Go" and sushi bar are customer service based and work with special orders.

Here for you, Hurlburt Commissary provides name-brand goods at n-profit prices, all in a safe and secure shopping environment. Products are sold at cost plus a 5% surcharge, which covers the cost of building new facilities or modernizing existing locations.

Legal Services for Retirees

The Hurlburt Field Legal Office provides free legal assistance to Active Duty, Active Reserve, Active Guard, retirees and dependents. The office can draft wills, living wills, health care agency documents, powers-of-attorney, and provide notary services during designated walk-in hours.

During non-will legal assistance hours, attorneys can help identify potential issues for civil-law cases and provide a starting point for legal self-help. Military attorneys cannot represent clients in state courts or provide criminal law advice. A private attorney should be contacted for specialized or labor-intensive legal work.

Prior to coming in for a will, clients should complete the will worksheet at <http://aflegalassistance.law.af.mil>. Select "Legal Worksheets" and fill out the requested information. Once the form is completed, the website provides a ticket number that you can bring during walk-in will hours. The full will-drafting and signing process takes about 90 minutes.

The legal office is located on the second floor of building 90210, 212 Lukasik Ave, Suite 255. The front desk can be reached at 850-884-7821.

DFAS preparing health care forms for next tax season

Under the Affordable Care Act, all Americans must have health care coverage that meets a minimum standard called minimum essential coverage. TRICARE coverage meets the minimum essential coverage requirement under the ACA.

Beginning in January 2016, DFAS will provide the appropriate IRS Form 1095 to all retirees, annuitants, former spouses and all other individuals having TRICARE coverage during all or any portion of tax year 2015. This includes TRICARE For Life beneficiaries.

The IRS Form 1095 proves people have the minimum essential coverage. These forms will document the information that DFAS is providing to the IRS on retirees and authorized family members. The forms must be reported with the 2015 federal tax returns. DFAS will provide people with their IRS Form 1095 by Jan. 31, 2016.

Pay officials urge all customers to ensure that the U.S. Postal Service address DFAS has on file for them is current by checking their latest Retiree Account Statement or calling DFAS at 800-321-1080.

People with a myPay account should logon and ensure their email address is current as well as make an IRS Form 1095 delivery method selection. They can "Turn On/Off Hard Copy of IRS Form 1095" in their online account. A delivery method selection is also available for the Form 1099-R necessary for tax season. Selecting "Electronic Delivery Only" for both the 1095 and 1099 will help ensure the information and forms remain safe until needed.

More information about the impact of the Affordable Care Act on federal income tax is available at <http://www.irs.gov/Affordable-Care-Act>.

Air Force Enlisted Village

The Air Force Enlisted Village (AFEV) is a 501c3 nonprofit organization that provides a safe, secure home for surviving spouses of retired enlisted Air Force heroes and to mothers of current active duty and retired military members.

AFEV is also an affiliate of the annual Air Force Assistance Fund. Housing is provided at Bob Hope Village, an independent living community, in Shalimar, Fla. and at Hawthorn House, an assisted living and memory care residence located on the Bob Hope Village campus.

Residents enjoy worry-free living while sharing memories of military life, as well as a multitude of activities and other conveniences. Bob Hope Village is located in close proximity to Hurlburt Field and Eglin AFB.

Retired military couples and widows of all military branches are eligible for residency on space available basis. For more information about AFEV, Bob Hope Village or Hawthorn House, please call 850-651-3766, email info@afev.us, or visit www.afev.us.

Visitor requests for Hurlburt Field Accommodations

For those requesting access to several of the amenities on base, there are application procedures you must follow in order to be approved. These steps can sometimes be confusing or even hard to identify, and a little guidance is always helpful!

For visitor requests to the Soundside club, sponsors must submit a visitor request to the ISOSFS Pass Registration office in Bldg 90210 in person or via government email to the "1 SOSFS/VCC" distribution list at least three days prior to the event. The request must contain the following information: sponsors rank/title and name, sponsors contact information, point of contact during the event (can be same as sponsor), name/type of event, date/time/location of events, and full name of visitor as show on state or federal government issued photo ID card.

For individuals or groups of less than 10 requesting main base, Soundside Housing, and Joint Operations Planning Center, sponsors may complete a visitors request in two ways. First they can meet their visitors at the Visitor Control Center at the Main Gate where vetting and pass issue will take place. Second, sponsors can submit a visitor request prior to their visitor's arrival by submitting a request to ISOSFS Pass and Registration office in Bldg 90210 in person or via government e-mail.

For groups of 11 or more visitors attending events such as parties/meetings/weddings, sponsors must submit a request to ISOSFS as outlined in the previous paragraph. Request must include sponsor rank/title and name, contact information, point of contact during event, name/type of event, date time location of event, and full name/date of birth of visitor as well as either visitor's drivers license number or social security number. The procedures are the same for Eglin AFB.

Gator Lakes Golf Course

A Successful Community Partnership

This summer Gator Lakes Golf Course opened the links to a new group of players: the general public. Gator Lakes is inviting qualifying members of the surrounding communities to apply for a pass to access the course. "We saw an opportunity to give back to the community and expand our customer base. We saw how other bases were approaching this program and making it work," said course manager Don Kramer. "We thought it would be a good fit. There are a lot of people in the area who love to golf and like to try out all the golf courses to get a variety."

Currently, many civilians play

the course regularly but have to schedule rounds to meet their military friend or family member's schedule. "The course is very inviting," said Community Services Flight Chief Jeff Rickert. "We already have a lot of people who come out with a military member, but would come more often if they were able to enter the base on their own."

Rickert agrees opening Gator Lakes to the public is a win-win for everyone. Creating a pass program for Gator Lakes is a successful Fort Walton Beach/Destin/Navarre partnership initiative. Opening the course to our neighbors is a way to give back to the communities providing a high level of support to our Airmen.

Consent for opening the course to the public required close coordination with the Fort Walton Chamber of Commerce as well as golf courses within ten miles. "Before we were able to start our paperwork, we had to ask the Chamber and Fort Walton Beach golf course to make sure they had no objections. They had to give it their approval before we could move forward," said Rickert.

Gator Lakes has become one of the premier courses in the area. Economically, opening the course to the larger customer base enhances revenue for planned projects and improvements. "We have done a lot to the course. Six years ago, we did a complete green renovation, upgraded the sprinkler system, and changed grass to a seaspray grass," said Rickert. "The grass upgrade was significant, especially for this area." There are lots of improvements still coming. Planned capital improvements included replacing the golf cart fleet last year and there are plans to upgrade the irrigation system in the near future.

Those looking to play on base need to fill out a background check form and submit it to ID and Pass in person. Customers will be notified within a week and given follow-up instructions. Base passes for golf are valid for six months and carry specific restrictions for golf. Gator Lakes is confident that opening the course to the community at large can be accomplished in a secure and cooperative way that strengthens ties with the community. For more information, please call Gator Lakes Golf Course, 850-581-0007.

dogs to snipers to Pearl Harbor survivors and the Blue Angels."

With "Forward March" being a network show versus a cable show, editor Robert Nicholson said he and the team are trying to produce something of quality for the entire community to enjoy using many different media tools.

"The show has a rich tapestry of still photos and video," Robert said. "So whatever the hosts and guests are talking about, we're able to illustrate in some way."

For those who are affiliated with or have an interest in the military, Nicholson said, "Forward March" is the perfect show.

"We've had all kinds of folks say, 'I love Forward March,'" she said. "The guests are fun and the topics are exciting."

"We're reaching out to all our military servicemen and retirees. This show is very informative and we want everybody to have an appreciation for what the military is doing to keep our country safe."
